

U. S. Forces Building New Korean Defense Line Lausche Names Democrat To Fill Taft Vacancy In Senate

Mayor Burke Of Cleveland Receives Nod

Columbus, Ohio (AP)—Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio yesterday named his hometown friend, Democratic Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland, to the vacant seat of Robert A. Taft, late Republican leader in the U. S. Senate.

Lausche's surprise announcement, phoned from Cleveland where the governor spoke at a Columbus Day observance, gave assurance that Burke would not try to upset the thin margin of Republican organization control in the Senate.

With the appointment of Burke, that body now has 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who calls himself an independent but has promised to vote with the GOP on Senate organizational matters.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who presides over the Senate, can break tie votes in favor of the Republicans.

Appointment of Burke, who will be 53 on Oct. 30, came on the eve of an Ohio Supreme Court hearing on action by a former Republican state official seeking to compel Lausche to appoint a successor to Taft without further delay.

Burke by statute will serve under the appointment until Dec. 15, 1954. A senator to serve the remainder of Taft's term to Jan. 3, 1957, will be elected in November, 1954.

Lausche reached Cleveland after the telephoned announcement to his secretary in Columbus after the press release had become public. The governor said:

"Prior to the appointment I did not speak to Thomas A. Burke and hence do not know when he will take the oath.

"He had no commitments to me of any character whatsoever, except that I anticipate he will take no action to change in any manner the present organization of the Senate, and that, in the fulfillment of his duties he will constantly keep in mind the interests and the welfare of the general public."

Burke in a statement at Cleveland expressed belief in the two party system and said that while the minority should be constructively critical, the President should receive support in his program.

A former Cleveland law director and assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor, Burke observed it is not easy to follow "a great senator, one of the greatest."

In expressing admiration for Taft, who died last July 21 of cancer, Burke followed an early example by Lausche who went so far as to say during the senator's re-election campaign in 1950 that he might vote for Taft. Lausche never revealed how he voted.

Burke, a four-term mayor, said he planned to serve out his term that runs to Nov. 10.

Neither Lausche nor Burke has disclosed further political plans. Friends of Lausche had expressed belief if he appointed a ranking Ohio Democrat, it would indicate the governor planned to seek a fifth term next year. Lausche now is serving an unprecedented fourth two-year term.

The same friends speculated if Lausche appointed a political unknown it might indicate he wanted to run for the Senate himself next year with his senatorial appointment on the sidelines.

Burke, mayor of Cleveland longer than anyone else, refused to seek re-nomination in the Cleveland primary election last month. He said then he wanted to return to private law practice.

Burke, a native of Cleveland, married the former Josephine Lyon in June, 1924. They have two daughters.

A Catholic, Burke won election for mayor in 1945, 1947, 1949 and 1951. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Holy Cross and a doctor of law degree from Western Reserve University.

Hershey (AP)—A festive air enveloped this little central Pennsylvania community last night for the welcome of President Eisenhower to his birthday party.

Flags and bunting hung from windows and from the Ringling Brothers "big top" circus tent was a sign emblazoned in yard-high letters:

"You are now entering the greatest event on earth to attend the greatest buffet on earth for the greatest guy on earth."

The sign typified the sentiment among the townspeople in this chocolate-making community as they awaited the big celebration today on the eve of the President's birthday.

Scores of workmen hammered together a huge "birthday cake" in the big tent as other unattended tons of fruit and vegetables to decorate the five tiered platform.

Ticket sales for the $100-a-plate buffet dinner to be served under the "big top" pushed the 5,500 mark.

The Republican State Finance Committee looked for sales to reach 6,000 by nightfall today.

In the big 6,400-seat Hershey Sport Arena, less than 100 yards from the circus tent, orchestra leader Fred Waring ran through a last-minute rehearsal of a gigantic program to be presented for the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Dewey's Efforts To Force Wicks' Resignation Fails

Albany, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey yesterday demanded the resignation of acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks, who visited labor extortionist Joseph Fay in prison, but Wicks refused.

Instead, Wicks said he would submit his resignation as Republican Senate leader at a previously scheduled special legislative session next month "and let the Senate pass upon my fitness."

After a four-hour meeting with Dewey, Wicks explained that he turned down the governor's demand because "it was not within his province as governor to ask my resignation. I was elected to my position as majority leader of the Senate by members of that body."

Wicks, as Senate majority leader, automatically became acting lieutenant governor two weeks ago on the resignation of Frank C. Moore.

11 From County To Attend Eisenhower Birthday Party

Eleven Monroe Countians will attend the tremendous birthday party at Hershey, Pa. tonight at which President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be the guest of honor on the eve of his 63rd birthday.

H. G. Sanborn Jr., general manager of Worthington Mower Co., had charge of ticket sales for the $100-a-plate buffet dinner to be served in the circus "Big Top" tent for the occasion by Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey.

Mr. Sanborn, who was one of a small group to conceive and develop the birthday party idea some three months ago, has been meeting regularly with the leaders of the party to plan and execute the numerous details attached to the unusual Presidential birthday party.

It was during these early meetings that Mr. Sanborn was selected to serve on the state finance committee of the Republican party in Pennsylvania.

His appointment was made by Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, state GOP chairman on recommendation from B. K. Williams, Monroe County party chairman.

Mr. Sanborn said local detail to President Eisenhower's birthday party will leave here at 8:30 a. m. by car. The group includes:

J. L. Cohen, Russell C. Cramer, John M. Randall, Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, R. LeRoy Dengler, Dr. H. A. Lorenz, Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, Gerald P. O'Neill, Ray Price Jr., Mr. Sanborn and Mr. Williams.

Another Monroe Countian, Fred Waring and his famed Pennsylvanians, are responsible for the entertainment during the party's show in the Big Top at the Hershey stadium and sports arena.

China's Atomic Stockpile Is Large Enough To Inflict Devastating Reprisal on any aggressor, who dares attack, he said, but he added that "our existing atomic and hydrogen effort is not big enough and hold enough to answer the challenge of the hour."

Cole's statement about the hydrogen explosion in Russia two months ago was stronger than other Eisenhower administration spokesmen have made. They have referred to it only as a weapon stronger than the A-bomb.

Army Grigger Dies Of Injuries

St. Benning, Ga. (AP)—A 23-year-old second lieutenant from Iowa died at Ft. Benning Hospital of a head injury received last week in a practice scrimmage with the 508th Red Devils football team, the public information office said yesterday.

He was identified as 2nd Lt. William F. Wilson, of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Argument Leads To Man's Death

Pittsburgh, (AP)—William W. Kerr, 44, of Pittsburgh, admitted yesterday he beat a drinking companion and hurled him to his death in the Allegheny River, Det. Supt. Adam Geisler said.

Geisler said Kerr told him he got into a fight several weeks ago with Benjamin Drake over where they should sleep for the night and $1.40 which Drake had left after a four-day drinking spree.

Grigger Saves Child

Wheeling, W. Va. (AP)—Paul Reger, 24-year-old end on the football team at West Liberty State College, climbed into the second floor of a burning house and rescued a two-year-old boy Sunday night after two earlier attempts had failed.

Boy's Death Plotted Before Kidnaping

By Allan Merritt

St. Louis (AP)—Carl Austin Hall, a sullen drug addict, and his unkempt woman friend confessed yesterday they prepared to kill Bobby Greenlease before they kidnaped the 6-year-old child.

Hall admitted to the FBI he killed the boy by firing a pistol bullet into the right side of his head after driving him across the Missouri-Kansas state line from Kansas City a short time after Bobby's kidnaping.

Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41-year-old alcoholic, confessed she was with Hall when he killed the boy, son of multi-millionaire parents who paid a record $600,000 in ransom.

With the couple's signed confessions that the child was taken across a state line, the government immediately filed charges at Kansas City under the Lingbergh kidnaping law.

The confessions yesterday cleared Thomas John Marsh, 37, tattooed ex-convict named earlier by Hall as the actual killer of Bobby, of any part in the crime.

The admission also wiped out the Heady woman's earlier claim she was merely an innocent pawn in the case when she led the unsuspecting child from an exclusive Catholic school Sept. 28 on the pretext she was his aunt. She insisted she thought the boy was Hall's son, in custody of an ex-wife.

The 34-year-old Hall, ne'er-do-well son of a respected Kansas family, and his partner in the crime that has shocked the nation, were expected to go to trial on the kidnaping charge before a federal court jury in Kansas City.

The Lindbergh law, which stemmed from the kidnap-slaying of the famous aviator's son 21 years ago, carries a possible death penalty when the kidnap victim is harmed.

In Kansas City late yesterday, Edward L. Scheffer, U. S. attorney, said a federal grand jury, now in recess would be called back into session to hear all the evidence. He said the summons will be sent out as soon as possible.

At the same time Scheffer said Jackson County Prosecutor Richard Phelps had agreed to let the federal government prosecute the two kidnapers. A state charge of kidnaping was filed by Phelps. A murder charge was filed against the couple in Buchanan County, where the body of the boy was found.

Hall and Mrs. Heady are held in federal custody. They are held under bonds of $100,000 each on extortion charges.

If convictions and death sentences result from a federal trial, the government would borrow Missouri's gas chamber at its state prison in Jefferson City to carry out the executions.

The boy's body, decomposing under a layer of lime, Hall admitted buying before the kidnaping, was unearthed in the back yard of Mrs. Heady's home in St. Joseph, Mo., Wednesday soon after the arrest of the couple here.

The FBI said Hall and Mrs. Heady confessed they dug the grave before they put their kidnap plot into execution.

Confronted with a mounting pile of unanswerable evidence, Hall and his divorcee companion made their new confessions to Joseph E. Thornton, agent in charge of the FBI here, and agents working under him.

Tito Demands Trieste Talks

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia called urgently yesterday for direct talks with the United States, Britain and Italy on the Balkan powder-keg issue of Trieste and notified the United Nations a threat to peace exists in that strategic North Adriatic peninsula.

These rapid-fire moves took place in the capital yesterday as angry Belgrade mobs—whipped up by the storm of official Yugoslav protests over the American-British decision to turn the zone of Trieste over to Italy—slugged the director of the U. S. Information Service and burned British library signs and pictures in the street.

McCarthy Claims New Probe Indicates Dangerous Spying At Signal Corps Radar Base

New York, (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said yesterday his new probe has turned up indications of "extremely dangerous espionage" at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., Signal Corps radar center and possibly throughout the Signal Corps.

He said that testimony before his Senate permanent investigations subcommittee "has all the earmarks that extremely dangerous espionage" has been committed recently at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy added without elaboration: "If it develops as it has been it will envelop the whole Signal Corps."

The senator went on to say the Signal Corps "deals with our major defense against atomic attack"—presumably a reference to radar facilities which would warn of approaching enemy planes.

In Washington, Defense Department and Army spokesmen said they had no comment on McCarthy's statements, made after his subcommittee had heard secret testimony of five witnesses.

All the witnesses were former or present civilian employees at the Signal Corps radar laboratories at Ft. Monmouth. Several employees there recently were suspended on security grounds.

The senator said Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens will sit in with the committee on today's closed session after having been given a complete resume of past testimony.

He said Stevens "apparently thinks it of sufficient importance."

Accused Turnpike Killer Arrested In New Mexico; Identified By Pawned Watch

Albuquerque, N. M., (AP)—An accused terrorist of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, captured after a breakneck police chase, yesterday steadfastly maintained his innocence and implicated a mysterious "other man."

New Mexico state police late Sunday arrested John Wesley Wable, 24, charged with a double murder on the turnpike, on a tip from two petite young women playing cops and robbers to kill time.

Identified because of a watch he pawned, taken from one of the turnpike victims, Wable is charged with the fatal shooting of Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., and Lester B. Woodward, 39, Harrisburg, Pa., last July.

The truckers were shot as they slept in their parked vehicles. The murders, and the subsequent non-fatal shooting of John K. Shepard, 34, West Alexander, Pa., threw a mantle of terror over the turnpike. Truckers traveled only in convoys and slept under lights.

"I didn't kill nobody," the shivering, nude Wable told officers here. He was stripped when he threatened to commit suicide, but later his clothes were returned.

"But I think I know who did. And I've got friends who will take care of him."

Undersheriff Walter Geis said the slender Wable admitted once owning a foreign make gun identified as the death weapon but maintained he gave it to a man he met on the streets in Cleveland.

It was the same man, Wable contended, from whom he purchased a watch taken from Shepard and which he later pawned.

Geis said he was withholding the name of the man Wable is accusing.

Geis said in mid-afternoon Wable had signed a statement concerning the turnpike slayings, but declined to disclose details. There was no indication the statement was in form of a confession.

For those involved in Wable's capture, it meant both trouble and a possibility of unexpected good fortune.

The chase started when two men held up an Albuquerque service station.

State police threw up road blocks, but the car driven by Wable sped through it. State police pursued the fleeing car at speeds up to 96 miles per hour, but were unable to catch up.

Snarled in evening movie traffic, Wable abandoned the car on the outskirts of Belen and struck out on foot.

Wable's two companions, Marvin H. Parsons, 20, and J. D. Francis, 17, were taken into custody almost immediately. They had hitched a ride with Wable in the Mojave Desert after their car broke down. The service station operator identified as having been

Millard Mitchell Critically Ill

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP)—Broadway and Hollywood actor Millard Mitchell is critically ill and in a coma at St. John's hospital, his agency said yesterday.

Musie Corporation of America, the agency, said he is not expected to live. Nature of his illness was not disclosed.

Mitchell, 48, shot into screen prominence as the result of a featured role in "My Six Convicts" and as the movie producer in "Singin' in the Rain."

slay Zone B of the free territory and threatened to march them into Zone A "the moment Italian troops enter."

He said the entry of Italian forces into Trieste would be considered by this country as "an act of aggression" which he was prepared to meet with military force.

A Yugoslav note addressed to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld repeated this stand and asked that the 39 other members of the world organization be notified of the Yugoslav stand on the Trieste issue. The note was a formality through which the Security Council would be called upon to take up the question if it felt international peace was threatened.

Possibility Of Renewed Fighting Seen

Washington (AP)—Asst. Secretary of Defense John A. Hannah said yesterday a new defense line is being built by U. S. forces in Korea because of the possibility of renewed fighting.

Describing the work as a "tremendous job" Hannah said "it involves a complete new line of fortification, bunkers, observation posts, artillery positions and so on."

"The next 60 to 90 days everybody will be busy," he added.

He mentioned the defense line during the course of an interview on military manpower, when he was asked about the morale of U. S. forces in Korea since the armistice.

"At the moment," he said, "the morale is very good because our men are all busy."

"Busy doing what?" he was asked.

"Building a new defense line. When we signed the truce we withdrew two kilometers from the old fighting line and we built a fence along our boundary . . . Then, because there is the possibility of renewed fighting, our people have immediately embarked upon the building of a new defense line."

Before touching upon the possibility of renewed fighting in Korea, Hannah reminded the nation that every American youth faces an 8-year military obligation, whether he is drafted or enlists. Part of that would be in the reserves, however, and not active duty.

Hannah also declared that the accumulated supply of eligible military manpower has been "pretty much depleted" since the outbreak of the Korean War in mid-1950.

He said it will be 1960 before there will be more than a million eligible youths available for service—either through the draft or enlistments—to fill out the nation's annual requirements.

"As far as we can see, it is going to be necessary to maintain armed forces at approximately the present size for an indefinite period," Hannah said.

"The decision has been made that there shall be no reduction in combat effectiveness in any of the services for an indefinite period.

"And we are going to move in the direction of increasing the combat effectiveness of the Air Force."

Reds Ready To Conduct Explanations

Panmunjon (AP)—The Communists gave notice yesterday they are ready to begin this week an all-out struggle to win back 22,500 anti-Communist Chinese and North Korean prisoners.

The psychological war will be waged under supervision of the five-nation repatriation commission, headed by India.

It may touch off violent repercussions from prisoners who have vowed they would not be interviewed and have flung rocks and curses at Red officials.

Peiping radio said Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, head of the Communist military armistice delegation, had informed the commission that Red persuasion teams were ready to start tomorrow or Thursday on explanations of repatriation rights to prisoners.

The United Nations command has completed a temporary "explanation center" of 20 tents but the Reds refused to go ahead until 12 more tents are put up tomorrow or the next day.

Russia Offers New Proposal

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Russia yesterday came up with a new package plan under which she would support the admission of Italy and Finland to the U. N. if three Soviet satellites—Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria—also were admitted.

The surprise proposal was made by Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik in the General Assembly's 60-nation Special Political Committee which is seeking to break the log jam on the admission of new members.

It was not immediately clear what the new stand means.

Medical Men To Attend Cancer Forum

All Monroe County physicians and dentists have been invited to attend a one-day regional cancer institute—the second of a series of six this year throughout Pennsylvania—to be held Oct. 21 in Wilkes-Barre at the Iron Temple Country Club.

The afternoon and early evening program will be conducted by a special team composed of faculty members from five Philadelphia medical schools under the sponsorship of the Division of Cancer Control of the Pennsylvania Department of Health and the Pennsylvania Division of the American Cancer Society. Endorsement of the meeting has been given by the Commission on Cancer of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

Five subjects on different phases of cancer control will be covered during the afternoon session starting at 1:30. In addition to the Monroe County physicians, doctors will attend from 11 other counties in the Northeast area of Pennsylvania.

Following the panel discussion and question and answer period, dinner will be served and one short address will be given on current progress in cancer research.

A complete outline of the program and a registration card have been mailed to each physician and dentist by the Monroe County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Those planning to attend should return the registration card as soon as possible, it was stressed yesterday by Dr. Paul Shiffer, president of the local cancer society.

Most-liked low-priced car

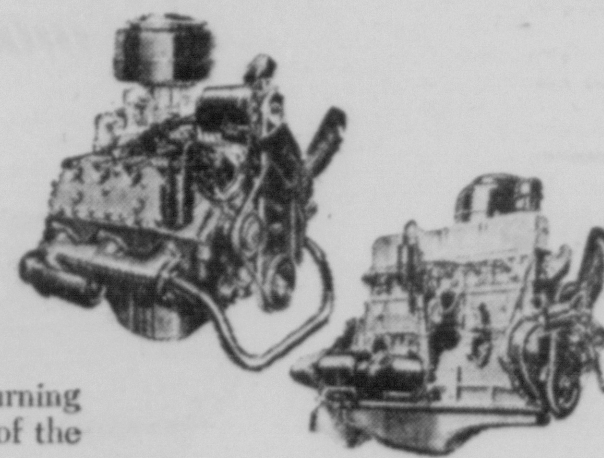

...among people who want more for their money when they buy...and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

Ford's 110-h.p. V-8 is the same type of engine now powering America's finest (and costliest) cars. And Ford's Mileage Maker Six is the most modern Six in the industry.

...more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its hulltight Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field), its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive. And Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models,

E. S. Council Reverses Stand On Courtland St. Parking

30-Minute Parking To Be Allowed

Thirty-minute parking signs will go back again on N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg Council decided last night.

It was the latest move in a three-month row over parking which has split council and brought heated arguments.

One councilman, Elton P. Hall, indicated last night he was strongly considering re-signing.

No-parking signs on the west side of the street have been off again, on again, and now are gone again.

At the August meeting, Hall moved to prohibit parking on one side of N. Courtland St., as a safety measure, Council approved. The signs went up.

A few weeks later a few of the councilmen "authorized" 30-minute parking in front of two stores.

At the September meeting Hall protested: the "authorization" wasn't legal, he pointed out, since it was done outside council meeting.

It was agreed an error had been made and the original motion prohibiting all parking was allowed to stand after much discussion. Superintendent Henry Lesoiné was instructed to remove the parking signs and lines in front of the two stores again.

At the October meeting the two merchants involved appeared before council. Why was parking taken away, given back, then taken away again? they wanted to know.

A squabble which lasted more than an hour followed. Mrs. Mary Michelfelder, operator of an ice cream store, complained about the police chief, Arthur Swink, and vowed the no-parking in front of her store was spoiling her business.

Hall stuck fast to his contention that the measure was passed for safety reasons and was as necessary now as then. The proprietor of Owen's Radio & Electric said he just wanted permission for trucks to load and unload at his store. This was agreed on.

The whole matter was referred to the streets committee for "study."

The committee's report was made at last night's adjourned meeting—a continuation, in effect, of the first meeting.

Said Jack Wyckoff, chairman of the committee, "Charlie (Buenzli) and I looked over the situation. Buenzli always was of the opinion there should be parking for the two people. I'm inclined to believe along the same lines."

Hall said the matter had been "very thoroughly discussed" at earlier meetings and the majority opinion was that there should be no parking, as a safety measure. "I can't agree to showing partiality," he said.

"It's not showing partiality," said Buenzli. "I can't see not giving any business place 30 minutes parking."

"One thing it (no parking) has done, it's increased the speed," said Roy Lloyd.

"I've discussed it as much as I'm going to," Hall said about 30 minutes later. "If we're going to pass an ordinance and then can't stick to it because we get a gripe from one woman, then we shouldn't pass any ordinance. And it has not been proven to me that anyone has lost business. They've said so, but they haven't proved it."

"The chief (Arthur Swink) called me," put in Verdon T. Gilliland, "and said the truck parked in front of Mary's was there more than half an hour. Give everyone his due . . . I don't think Art Swink is the fault of everything that happens in this borough. I think Swink is doing his duty as a police officer."

Council president and acting burgess Harold Wiggins said he thought it would be safer to open up parking all along the street than to "give just a couple of people concessions."

"Well why not give the business places a break?" asked Buenzli. "We need the business. We're always getting a riding from Stroudsburg."

"I believe in giving business all the breaks possible," answered Hall "but not at the expense of safety."

After another 15 minutes of discussion and argument, Wiggins attempted to resolve the question.

Court Delays Sentencing Of Charles Martz

Scranton — Federal Judge John Murphy yesterday postponed sentencing of Charles Martz, Stroudsburg, on charges of forgery of a government check pending a study of Martz' case by a federal probation officer.

Martz was brought to Federal Court from Monroe County jail by Sheriff Jacob Altomose on summons of the court.

U.S. Attorney J. Julius Levy arraigned Martz, but Judge Murphy refused to hear any testimony until Martz was provided with counsel.

The court appointed Attorney Earl Kaplan, Scranton, who had just been admitted to practice before Federal Court. After the facts were placed on the record, Martz made a plea to the court for leniency.

It was this plea which Judge Murphy said would be investigated by the federal probation officer.

Bangor Church 75 Years Old

Bangor — Sunday marks the 75th anniversary of the founding of Trinity Lutheran Church here. Special communion will be held at 10:45 a. m. with Dr. J. F. Stolte, pastor, assisted by Rev. Horace S. Mann, of Reading, officiating.

Musical portion of the program will be under supervision of Charles R. Steinmetz, choir director.

He indicated a motion might be in order. There were no takers.

"I won't rescind the original motion, if that's what you're waiting for," Hall said finally.

At last Roy Lloyd spoke. "I move we have 30 minute parking from Lenox Ave. to the south end of the high school property."

Buenzli seconded the motion.

"Let's have a roll call vote," asked Hall.

"No" voted Hall and Wiggins. "Yes" voted Buenzli, Wyckoff, Gilliland and Lloyd.

"Why are you limiting parking to Lenox Avenue?" asked Hall.

"Is that fair to the business places below Lenox? I'm just asking for information."

"We're just putting back parking where it was before all this conflag started," Buenzli answered.

"That's right — that's the real reason," snapped Hall. "Because of the complaints — two complaints . . . This council is going to look about as silly as it can look," because of making and breaking its parking regulations.

"I am going to consider very carefully the necessity of my being on this board. I don't want to waste my time," Hall said.

"I believe in giving business all the breaks possible," answered Hall "but not at the expense of safety."

After another 15 minutes of discussion and argument, Wiggins attempted to resolve the question.

'Superspective' Paintings Explained To Exchange Club

Looking down on industries is the specialty of Edwin D. Mott, Caldwell, N. J., a Marshalls Creek Summer resident.

He manages to get a birds' eye view from the ground, he explained last night to Exchange Club members.

Industries pay Mott well for "looking down on them." His reproductions of entire plant and manufacturing facilities as it might be viewed from an airplane have been used in ads and other materials in many national magazines.

The trick, he explained to Exchange Club members, is to study blueprints of the plant, walk around the outside and inside of the buildings if possible, then make the drawing in water color.

The finished job resembles most closely a photograph shot from an airplane, looking down from a slight angle.

Even in a plane it would be difficult to find the models for some of the "superspective" paintings Mott has completed. Many haven't been built yet. It's just that prospective investors and promoters like to see what their future firm will look like.

It all started innocently, with Mott drawing locomotives as a boy. Here he learned all about perspective, line and shading, he told club members.

Then he was asked to correct an immense drawing of a plant. He did, and has been in demand since. Some firms are repeat customers. One has been having drawings of its new buildings done for 22 years.

It's a nice life, Mott indicated. In Winter he does industrial plants; in the Summer—resorts. He's viewed nearly all the Poconos' major resorts in "superspective," he said.

He turned down a Hollywood offer to do big paintings of scenes which could be photographed and used as backgrounds. Mott preferred to be his own boss—and he'd "rather be in the Poconos."

North Korean Refugee Pilot Changes Story

Seoul (AP) — A North Korean MIG pilot who made a spectacular $100,000 flight to freedom last month said yesterday the Reds formed three all-Jet air divisions in North Korea consisting of more than 150 fighters and bombers just before the armistice became effective.

However, Lt. Noh Kum Suk said in a press conference that he had not seen Red warplanes cross the Manchurian border after the truce became effective July 27. This contradicted his statements in an earlier press conference.

Noh said the Reds had 150 crated MIGs on the flatcars at Antung ready to roll into North Korea at a moment's notice on the last day of the war. He saw 10 of them ready at 4 a.m. July 27—18 hours before the truce froze military buildups at their existing level.

A protest to neutral nation truce supervisors by the U. N. Command yesterday charged the Communists had moved combat planes into Uiju, 10 miles northeast of Antung, during the armistice and had violated the truce terms. But this apparently was another case.

Noh flew his MIG from Antung, Manchuria, to Seoul last month and became eligible for the $100,000 reward posted by the U. N. Command for the first Red pilot to defect.

He said he had been promised the money but had not yet collected it.

The Red airman compared the MIG unfavorably to U. S. Sabre jets on these grounds:

One—Sabres can outfight MIGs 10-1 because the Sabre is easier to control.

Two—The Sabre has a better gunsight.

Three—The Sabre pilot has better visibility and a clearer windshield.

Four—The Sabre can fight longer because of greater fuel capacity. Earlier in the day, Noh had been presented to President Syngman Rhee and had a dramatic reunion with his mother who is also a refugee from North Korea.

The mother held a rosary and murmured prayers as tears ran down her face during the meeting.

The Fifth Air Force said it has offered Noh a job as a research specialist on Okinawa for the next few months.

Bankers Enters Plea To Theft

Scranton (AP) — Gilbert J. McCauley, 40, former assistant cashier of the Scranton Third National Bank and Trust Co. pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of embezzling $174,000 of bank funds over a period of years. Federal Judge John W. Murphy, who accepted the plea, deferred sentence indefinitely.

Three other persons indicted for aiding and abetting McCauley in taking the funds entered pleas of innocent and their bail of $10,000 each was continued. Pleading innocent were Mrs. Badi J. Hashem, 49; her son, Thomas, 29, and Samuel Miller, 49, Scranton bakery owner.

C. W. Samsel, 70, Dies In Drexel Hill

Clarence W. Samsel, 70, of Upper Darby, Pa., died at 4:30 p.m. yesterday in Delaware Hospital, Drexel Hill, Pa.

Mr. Samsel was a son of John and Matilda Hillpot Samsel. He had been engaged as a real estate broker for many years.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. William Klinger, Philadelphia; a sister, Mrs. C. D. Hallock, Stroudsburg, and a brother, George Samsel, Stroudsburg.

Private funeral services will be held in Daniel G. Warner funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rev. Ernest Campbell, Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, will conduct services. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. There will be no viewing.

Miss Fowler, Pike County Native, Dies

Miss Throna M. Fowler, 62, died Saturday at Easton. She was a native of Greentown, Pike County.

Miss Fowler was a daughter of Charles and Elizabeth McLarence Fowler.

Survivors are a sister, Miss Agnes Fowler, Greentown; three brothers, Walter and Royal, Greentown, and Arthur, Phillipsburg, N. J.

Funeral services will be held in Frey funeral home, South Sterling at 1 p.m. today. Rev. Harry Roff, Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be made in the old Greentown Cemetery.

Bangor Drive Exceeds Goal

Bangor—The magazine campaign conducted by the Bangor Mothers Association of Bangor High School ended in success yesterday.

Goal of the drive was $4,000. Subscriptions totaled $4,220.20, according to Anna Mae Menhennit, student leader, and Samuel Smith, faculty adviser.

The money will provide additional uniforms for the school band and go toward purchasing an electric organ for use in the school auditorium.

Bullet Kills Boy

Pittsburgh (AP) — A 22 caliber rifle bullet killed 7-year-old Gary Callen yesterday as he played in the upstairs of his home with a step-brother, Randy Frantz, 14. County detectives said the shooting was accidental.

Break-Out Attempted At Farview

Scranton (AP) — The superintendent of Farview State Hospital disclosed yesterday guards engaged in a pitched battle with patients during a break-out attempt at the mental institution Oct. 2.

Dr. John P. Shovlin said seven inmates had planned to overpower four guards, but that six of them apparently changed their minds although another inmate joined the seventh in an assault on one of the attendants.

Other guards appeared, Shovlin said, and a fight ensued during which the two inmates were injured.

One of them, James T. Lyett, 48, committed to Farview from Pittsburgh eight years ago, is in serious condition at Scranton State Hospital, suffering rib fractures and a punctured lung. Shovlin, who said Lyett is under heavy guard, declined to name the other inmates involved.

Couple Found Asphyxiated

Scranton (AP) — Believed to have been asphyxiated by coal gas, Mr. and Mrs. William Trostel were found dead yesterday at their home in nearby Clarks Summit. The bodies were discovered by Dr. E. C. Bauer, who called to treat Mrs. Trostel, 66, for a heart condition.

Dr. Bauer also found a son of the couple, William Trostel Jr., 36, unconscious in his bed and rushed him to a hospital where his condition is serious.

Trostel, 68, and his wife occupied a first-floor bedroom and had been dead for several hours when found. Deputy Coroner Dr. Michael Yevitz, following a preliminary investigation, said he believed fumes from a coal stove had killed the Trostels.

Troubles Pile Up For Rufus

Miamisburg, Ohio (AP) — Troubles just kept piling up on Rufus Stapleton, 32. He was involved in a weekend accident here and must pay $25 damages for denting the fender of an automobile.

Charged with intoxication, Stapleton also ran a red light, police said; failed to put a coin in a parked car when they tried to arrest him.

Stapleton was riding a horse.

New Set of Teeth

A long needed amendment to the Pennsylvania Game Laws, passed at the last session of the legislature, will stiffen the rather "weak-tea" penalties for out-of-season deer and bear killing.

If the past pattern of such illegal killings continue, there is every indication there will be many sorry hunters when future big game seasons roll around.

Under the new law it is now mandatory that anyone hunting, killing, wounding, transporting, concealing, or having in possession a deer taken in closed season shall lose his hunting and trapping privileges for three years.

Under the same section of the Game Law—anyone found guilty of hunting, killing or attempting to kill, or possessing, etc., a bear taken in closed season—a similar revision makes it mandatory that the culprit lose his hunting and trapping rights for five years.

Previously, the law allowed the Game Commission discretion in revoking a hunter's license for a period not to exceed two years for the first offense. The Commission no longer has any prerogative in the matter.

The legislators evidently realized that a long, definite suspension of hunting privileges would serve as a stronger deterrent to would-be killers of deer or bear in off season than would a heavier fine.

Cash penalties for illegal kills remain the same—$100 for each deer and $200 for each bear—whether killed in or out of season, or one day in jail for every dollar of fines and costs imposed.

Persons tempted to kill or possess a deer or bear in closed season, will do well to consider the "new teeth" in this amended Game Law.

By so doing much game will be saved for sporting gun in season and many outdoorsmen will retain their valued hunting and trapping rights.

Time For Repairs

When your house is rotting in its foundations, you don't put shingles on the roof. No, you get to work and put in a new foundation.

The constitution of the State is the foundation on which our house of government stands. And it is time to put in a new foundation—to meet in convention and draft a new constitution for Pennsylvania.

The present constitution was adopted on January 1, 1874, the horse and buggy days. As the buggy was replaced by the automobile and the airplane—the outmoded constitution was strained. Consequently emergency repairs to the foundations were installed. Each year new amendments were proposed.

Some 54 amendments have been tacked onto our constitution. They serve only as putty would fill a cracked ceiling.

In 1919, a commission was appointed to study the patched and pasted constitution. After a full year of study and debate, the commission reported that the document needed some 184 changes. They recommended that a convention be called to completely overhaul the document.

It is now 1953, the age of the jet plane. Certainly a Constitutional Convention is long overdue. It is time to put a new foundation under our State.

Operation Candor

The air is filled with talk of an "Operation Candor" which will stand your hair on end with respect to atom and hydrogen bombs in the hands of the enemy, the theory being that Joe Doakes, the Man in the Street, isn't sufficiently scared. This department's Frisby Fozzie, eminent expert in all matters deep enough to merit his attention, favors reversing the idea and addressing Washington on behalf of Doakes. Something along this line:

"Gentlemen of the high places on the Potomac! On behalf of the average man I fear it is you who need to be talked to candidly. Where did you get the idea I am not scared? Who told you I am not worrying enough? Brother, I have been shaking for a long time. If you think I am not shivering goose pimples, you are crazy."

"You are now old enough to be told the truth and given the set-up, boys. I am under no illusion that the atom bomb, the hydrogen bomb, the world situation, the Russian attitude and the general picture of a world gone nuts constitute clean entertainment. I can't sleep nights. I am jittery by day. When I want the future read, I pass up fortune tellers and listen to the sounds in a concrete mixer. What scares me as much as anything are those contradictory speeches by my leaders, the evidences of snafu in government and this Three-Dimension picture of high authorities running around in circles. I am scared by the addresses at $100-a-plate political dinners, the pop-offs by gassy Senators and the views of politicians mainly interested in next year's elections. I feel I may be in deadly peril from loose talk, cabinet leaks, fouled-up press releases, frightwag salesmen, conflicting predictions of things to come and TV press panels on which one government leader makes my teeth chatter and is followed by another one who says I worry too much. I get a feeling my country could get blitzed through Pentagon confusion, politics, fuddledudgery, slow thinking and the fact so many leaders are talking at once and disagreeing so heartily."

"What scares me is that it is so hard today in an hour of danger to find any leader who looks like George Washington, talks like Abe Lincoln, acts like Paul Revere and could easily be mistaken for Admiral Farragut. John Paul Jones, Ethan Allen, Andy Jackson, Nathan Hale, Davie Crockett or Tony McAniff. I don't say you ain't trying, boys. But you SHOULD GET TOGETHER. Contrary to some hints, I am not a dope, a moron or a short order of cold turkey. I know the terrible danger the free world, America, my town, my bungalow, my wife, my kids and myself are in. Nothing confuses me but my leaders. I wish you would all pause for station identification, compare your speeches and cut out the static interference. Here's hoping!"

REPERCUSSIONS?

Robert S. Allen Reports

'Push Button' Defenses To Ring National Capital

Washington—The country's No. 1 atomic first is due to be ringed with the first of the new "push-button" defenses against aerial attack.

"Nike," the secret-cloaked ground-to-air guided missile, will be installed in the cordon of massive anti-aircraft gun positions that have long safeguarded Washington.

Pentagon chiefs rate the Capital as the most important atomic target in the U. S., topping even the atomic plants and key industrial centers. That's why the first "batteries" of the deadly aerial weapons are being put into operation around the Potomac metropolis.

Other crucial danger spots throughout the nation will be similarly protected as more "Nikes" become available.

Formal announcement of the Washington installation will be made shortly. Defense Secretary Wilson has approved that, and the official statement is pending on his desk. The release will mark a change of view by him.

Earlier this year he cancelled a public demonstration of the much-discussed guided missile that was to have been staged at Burlington, N. C. Wilson banned it on the ground the exhibition "would not be in the interest of national security." But now he agrees with Army officials on the desirability of letting the people know that effective measures are being taken to protect them.

However, Army experts stress that while "Nike" is the most lethal anti-aircraft weapon they know of in existence, this does not insure American cities from atomic annihilation.

Two basic weaknesses are pointed out: (1) "Nike" is deadly accurate once it fixes on an aerial target, but that must first be accomplished, and (2) this potent guided missile, even a best, is only a close-in defense against the threat of masses of bombers, any one of which would have the capability of wiping out a whole area.

The hydrogen device recently tested by the Russians could do that in the form of a bomb carried by the long-range turbo-jet bombers they already have.

"Nike" is indeed a powerful and heartening addition to the nation's far-from-adequate continental defenses. Secretary Wilson was not exaggerating when he recently wrote Representative Carl Durham (D., N.C.), senior member of the House Armed Services Committee, "The development of 'Nike' is one of the most important defense achievements in years."

But it will take a great deal more than this tactical weapon, wondrous and deadly as it is, to safeguard the U. S. from atomic-loaded enemy bombers. That will require strategic defenses in global depth.

IN A MESS—President Eisenhower's hard-won law to allow 214,000 displaced persons to immigrate to the U. S. is virtually bogged down in red tape and bureaucratic dawdling.

Although the measure was enacted almost three months ago, not a single refugee has yet been admitted under it.

Further, under the indifferent, if not hostile, manner in which State Department moguls are performing the job of setting up the machinery to carry out the law, it appears likely that several more months may elapse before the first newcomer reaches this country.

Secretary of State Dulles is fully informed of this backstage situation. But so far he has turned a deaf ear to numerous pleas for corrective action.

Protests have come from the National Catholic Welfare Conference, the American Joint Distribution Committee, the World Council of Churches, and other groups and individuals who played a leading role in putting the President's measure through Congress against long and bitter opposition— spearheaded by Senator Pat McCarran (D., Nev.) and Representative Francis E. Walter (D., Pa.).

Amazingly, notwithstanding Walter's unsparring denunciation of the bill, he was named alternate delegate to the International Refugee Conference that is meeting in Rome this week.

The Pennsylvania got this appointment from Dulles. Some supporters of the legislation are so aroused over Dulles' attitude that they have conferred with Administration leaders about taking their complaints direct to President Eisenhower. One of those taken to is Senator Irving Ives (R., N. Y.), who was active in supporting the law.

Chief reason for the administration tie-up is a provision put over by Senator McCarran. After failing to block enactment of the law, the Nevada, in the secrecy of the House-Senate conference committee, voted to shift administrative control from the Foreign Operations Administration, as desired by the President and approved by the Senate, to the State Department.

It is this switch in jurisdiction that is largely responsible for the protracted delay in opening the way for the entry of the anti-Red refugees.

Two senators are known to be looking into the matter preparatory to demanding a formal investigation. One of them is compiling a list of searching questions that he will send to Dulles with a demand for full and detailed answers.

Flashes—White House staffman Maxwell Rabb is telling intimates that former Senator Owen Brewster (R., Me.), is finally going to get a government job. He has been after one for months. According to Rabb, "Brewster has been cleared for a place on a commission under the State Department."

George Sokolsky Says...

If It Is Money That Counts, Night Clubs Will Win Contest With Opera

Rudolph Bing, who manages the Metropolitan Opera very well, objects to Helen Traubel singing in night clubs and at the Metropolitan. For him, it is one or the other. Whereupon Miss Traubel waxed lyrical about American folk music, which she just loves to sing in the night clubs, which pay her in the vicinity of $5,000 a week, more or less, a sum that the Metropolitan cannot meet.

The press made quite a thing of the story and generally gave Bing a Bronx cheer, which is a dastardly unmusical note. However, Wagner will be sung without Traubel ever put foot on board. The classics have a way of finding artists who are willing to sing them and play them at whatever the box office will bear, and to accept the disciplines which they require.

There was a great Metropolitan artist who thought he could resist discipline, so he got himself a job which required an enormous amount of singing. Soon the finely attuned ears of musicians noted a hoarseness that should not have been there. Then came the slight—oh! so slight—off pitch which proved that the vocal chords were weary. That great artist is not doing too much singing these days.

It would be difficult to imagine Caruso singing even a Neapolitan ditty in a 52nd Street bistro, the smoke not only in his eyes but inhaled into his throat and lungs. Maybe it is not important that Caruso should ever have existed; yet his glorious tenor is a delight even today on the old-fashioned recordings. With Chaliapin, it might have been different; his bass voice seemed to have been able to stand anything.

I used to watch Mario Lanza move the piano up at Tanglewood during the summer that he was there trying to get an educated voice. I did not then know that he would ever be a lusty tenor, cleaning up on Hollywood salaries. But if anyone wants to test the difference between Caruso and Lanza, listen to the recordings of each, singing the same music. Bing never asked Lanza to sing at the Metropolitan.

To sing Wagner, such perfection of voice as few possess is required. Perhaps I might make this comparison: listen to Isaac Stern or Zino Francescatti play the fiddle and then ask an amateur, who has been practicing for ten years, to play on his own fiddle. Instrument and soul betray the amateur. Stern, in particular, makes a violin live. One looks at the heavy-set, almost square figure holding his instrument with his chin, and wonders what he can do. Such artists as Kreisler, Heifetz, Elman, Jan Kubelik of another vintage can make music speak and thrill.

But nobody would want to listen to such an artist play in a saloon, with the fat man gawling inebriately a much too young gal who giggles. Murder would be feasible under such circumstances.

There is such a thing as artistic self-respect, which is different from artistic snobbery. There is music for the moment and music that elevates the mind and spirit of man. Jerome Kern and George Gershwin have written some music that must live because of its great beauty, but much of what we call popular music is written to amuse, to entertain, to create fun. Everything has its own place and its own time. It is possible to enjoy Bach and bebop, but not at the same time, just as it is fun dancing to Irving Berlin's "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and it is elevating to listen to Brahms's Requiem. But not by the same orchestra. I doubt whether the Boston Symphony could send a youngster.

The point is that what Rudolph Bing is fighting for is a perfect performance at the Metropolitan by artists who discipline themselves for the arduous and even arduous artistry that operatic music requires. Unfortunately, the Metropolitan no longer has the money to pay its singers what they could when the Vanderbilts and Otto Kahn footed the delicacies.

The opera and other cultural groups cannot pay for themselves and maintain high standards. Therefore, they are in peril that their artists will wander where the green is more plentiful and luscious. If it is money that counts, the night clubs will win in this contest.

Where two ocean currents converge, much water sinks to the depths, and where currents diverge, much water rises.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Is there a man with soul so dead who never to himself has said, "I wish someone would leave me a million dollars?" Or, if he has a million dollars, he probably wishes for two or three or ten million more.

However, many people do more than wishing for things since they have found out that "wishing don't make it so." These people work themselves to the bone and become doctors and lawyers' delights and, much too early, undertakers' merchandise.

(By the way, and this has absolutely nothing to do with this story, I went to my doctor. I had a little sore on my nose, caused, according to my wife, by scratching it with fingers that had printer's ink on them. The doctor examined it carefully and said, "You have a sore on your nose." You wrote out a prescription—a new cortisone ointment. I presented the prescription at the drug store and paid $4.35 for a tube containing 6.10 of an ounce. On the first of the month I shall receive a bill for $10 from my doctor. Have YOU ever had a $14.85 pimple? I TOO wish somebody would leave me a million dollars.)

Now back to my story, as they say after the commercial on television.

Mrs. Gunnar Seeburg's sister in Denmark left her three million kroner, or about $600,000 in 1949. The Danish government—probably taking a page out of our book—took all but $250,000 in taxes and refused to let the Seeburgs take the capital out of the country.

But if you can't have the whole loaf, $250,000 is nothing to sneeze at. So Gunnar Seeburg, changed his job from a Chicago milk route inspector to retired capitalist and he and his wife began "capitalizing."

Every year since 1949 the two have spent four months out of the year in Europe. They traveled all over the place, saw everything to be seen, and worked harder on sightseeing and spending money than he had ever done milk-route inspecting or she cooking and washing dishes.

On their latest return from Denmark, he finally said they were through.

"There's too much of it," he told reporters. "I don't expect to be able to spend it all during the rest of our lifetime. We didn't make much headway spending. All we have been able to get rid of so far is the interest."

It's the traveling, he complained. "It's so tiring."

"It's the late hours. It's the dressing up and trying to live up to one's wealth. It's the not having anything to do and the job of attempting to be 'somebody.'"

So the Seeburgs decided to stay in America and live on the interest of what is still left of the heritage, which still amounts to more than what they can use.

When asked whether he is going to get his old job back, just to keep him busy, he is reported to have said, "What? And have still more money to spend?"

I don't know how many of you know many millionaires.

But if you do, ask them sometime whether being one, is such a great shakes, after all.

Everybody wants something from you. Everybody has some kind of a business proposition. You are afraid of burglars. You are afraid of tax inspectors. You are afraid that moths will get into your mink coat or that somebody will bump into your Jaguar. It's just awful.

I wish somebody would leave ME a million dollars.

A German in the Western Zone of Berlin, suspecting that letters to his son in Warsaw were being read by Communist operatives, wrote in one: "I'm enclosing herewith a hair which will fall out no doubt if some censor opens the envelope." The son replied, "Stop your foolish worries. The hair was still there when your letter arrived." The German Westerner had all the information he wanted. He hadn't put a hair in the original letter.

Progressive Womens Club Fashion Show

Saylorsburg — The Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg will hold their first meeting of the club year Wednesday night, Oct. 14, promptly at 8 at Chestnut-hill Auditorium, Brodheadsville.

A fashion show from the Wyckoff Store in Stroudsburg will start the series of interesting meetings which have been planned for the club. Part of the modeling will be done by club ladies.

Immediately after the show, a Halloween party will be featured. Each member is asked to bring her costume in a paper bag and time will be given for each to dress.

Five worthwhile prizes will be awarded, for funniest, most original, best dressed, and best dressed couple.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Miss Margaret Ingram, Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer, Mrs. John Martucci, Mrs. Craigen Mitchell, Mrs. Frank Varney, Mrs. Theodore Thompson, Mrs. Stanley Rader, Mrs. Alice Mills, Mrs. John Mills, Mrs. Richard Diehl, Miss Mary Jane Everett, Weston Fenn Jr., Mrs. Roy Woodling, and Mrs. Wesley Shafer.

The executive board met at the home of Mrs. Elmer Veety, president, last night.

The club will sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17, at the Masonic Temple in East Stroudsburg. The following women will receive donations of all kinds for the sale: Mrs. Graydon Praetorius, Saylorsburg; Mrs. Harry Weiss, Brodheadsville; Mrs. LeRoy Hinton, Gilbert; Mrs. Stanley Rader, Effort; Mrs. Raymond Van Why and Mrs. Clair Nelson, Sciota section.

Another feature of the club, is an ice cream party, which will be held Monday night, October 19 at 8, at Chestnut-hill auditorium. Tickets will be on sale at the meeting October 14.

Mrs. Raymond Van Why is chairman for the year of the Education Department and has a quota to fulfill for their part in the restoration of Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Various means are being arranged to raise the fund, other than by personal solicitation. More details will be given at the meeting.

Mrs. Majestic Entertains Mizpah Class

The Mizpah Bible Class of the Baptist Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Majestic, Stormsville recently. Mrs. Harry Hinton was in charge of the devotions.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Majestic served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Ada Poorstra. A surprise feature was the decorated birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Poorstra and Mrs. Rosalie Schmidt.

The following were present: Miss Jean Lowry, Mrs. Harry Hinton, Mrs. Mary Kunkle, Mrs. Helen Siproth, Mrs. Annetta LeBar, Mrs. Elwood Clifton, Mrs. Allen Paul, Mrs. Rosalie Schmidt, Mrs. Ada Poorstra, Mrs. May White, Mrs. Imogene Davenport and the hostess, Mrs. Majestic.

Band Mothers Plan Cake Walk For November

The East Stroudsburg Band Mothers last night named the committees which will prepare for their annual Fall Cake Walk to be held on Friday, November 6.

The cake ring will be under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Laura Bauscher, Mrs. Helen Wilson, Mrs. Mary Sterner, Mrs. Myrtle Kintner, Mrs. Dorothea Weidmeyer, Mrs. Kathryn Abel, and Mrs. Helen Schlough.

The soft drinks will be directed by Mrs. Janet Smith and Mrs. Ellen Burrus; the ice cream, by Mrs. Leona Lesoine and Mrs. Ruth Cole; the grab bag by Mrs. Alma Dellaria and Mrs. Gladys Bruce; the candy by Mrs. Stella Metzgar, Mrs. Mary Mursch, and Mrs. Beatrice Toebe.

The Band Mothers also discussed plans for the spring concert and other coming activities of the band.

Bangor Woman's Club Honors Past Presidents

Bangor — Past presidents of the Woman's Club were honored at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the club rooms. Mrs. E. S. Rosenberry, Mrs. Saba Hamm, Mrs. Oscar Mack, Mrs. Harry Stoddard, Mrs. Clarence Steinmetz, Mrs. Harry Ott, and Mrs. Vernon Hester were presented by the club president, Mrs. Robert Youtlin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hill Conrad of Scranton was the guest speaker, reviewing several Broadway plays and giving dramatic reviews of "The Seven Year Itch" and "Picnic." She was introduced by Mrs. Martin Hahn. Mrs. Woodrow Reimer and Mrs. Gene Halliday were welcomed as new members.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Lots of times the most exciting part of a story doesn't get in the paper. The behind-the-scenes feuding that sometimes breaks out in the best regulated clubs, the frantic mix-up just before the wedding; the after-the-party post mortems on the guests.

While executive board meetings may sound dull, there's a lot goes on you don't know about. Like the Progressive Woman's Club board worrying last night about whether the members would see that part about bringing a costume in a paper bag this Wednesday night.

Baby showers are quite commonplace, but you'll have to ask one of the guests at Mrs. Treible's shower why it is that everybody who was there now goes in to gales of laughter at such a simple remark as "Please, pass the mustard."

I'd like to know the background of Dr. Blakeslee's experience with Mau Mau uprisings in Kenya, and I'd love to peek in on Mrs. LeBar being suddenly east in the role of baby-sitter de luxe to Ann's two young daughters. Since they've been out in British Columbia, there hasn't been any chance to ease into this thing gradually.

Someday we'll write a social page, leaving out all the committees and what the speakers said, and including all the side remarks, the conversation in the kitchen during the program, and

Medical Aux. President Is Local Guest

"A Good Auxiliary Is You" was the topic of an address by Mrs. Frederic H. Steele, president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the State Medical Society, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at Linden Court, Sciota.

In attendance were 55 women representing the Medical Society Auxiliaries of Monroe, Northampton and Carbon Counties.

Mrs. David Kohn, of Mount Pocono, presided at the joint meeting. Mrs. Marshall Metzgar, of Stroudsburg, was hostess chairman.

Stressing the aims of the auxiliary, Mrs. Steele said, "We, who number in Pennsylvania nearly 5,000, have unusual opportunities to bring our message to more than 480,000 members of other women's organizations throughout our state. It is an opportunity which we cannot afford to overlook or misuse. Privilege is responsibility... they are both yours."

Using a novel theme, Mrs. Steele herself made up a pamphlet which she distributed among the women and to which she referred a number of times. Simply named "SHAPE," the folder listed a suggested public relations five-point aim for 1953-54.

The program: S—self understanding; H—health education; A—a family physician for every family; P—participation in community and voluntary health programs; and E—every doctor's wife an auxiliary member.

Mrs. Steele, wife of a Huntingdon, Pa., physician, became the 30th president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania at its convention in Pittsburgh in September.

Republican Candidates Invited To Party

All Republican candidates in the coming election are invited to be the guests of the Monroe Council of Republican Women on the local President's Birthday Party to be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

They will be introduced by County Chairman E. K. Williams. Mrs. Olaf Pedersen, president of the council, has called a meeting of her executive board for 1:30 p.m.

Pre-Election Dinner For Democrats

A Pre-Election Dinner, sponsored by the Women's Democratic Club of Monroe County will be held on October 31, with the Honorable Francis E. Walter, Representative to Congress from this district, as principal speaker. Congressman Walter is now in Italy serving on the immigration committee.

The dinner will be held at the Chestnut-hill Inn, Saylorsburg, R. D. and Everett Kent of Bangor will serve as toastmaster.

The Democratic Women have named committees in charge of the affair. Miss Myrtle Angle is chairman of the ticket committee, assisted by Mrs. Earl Shaw; housing and arrangements are in charge of Mrs. W. A. Rogalski, Miss Helen Wolfinger and Mrs. George Crane; and the program in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Altomero and the Democratic Women's Club president, Mrs. Claude Cummins.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the club.

Ann Logans Spend, Earn For Hospital

Ann Logan Society of the General Hospital last night spent $1,181.50 for the hospital and planned ways of raising funds at their meeting held at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The check was to pay for the new kinetometer at the hospital. The first big project discussed was the birthday calendar. Deadline for names for the calendar was announced for October 22. A lot more names are needed. It was reported, and everyone was asked to call Mrs. Horace Butler or Mrs. William Thomas and give them the birthdays of their families and friends. Since names are listed under the birth dates for only ten cents apiece, they are hoping to have more than 3,000 names on the calendar this year.

October 22 will also be the deadline for organizations wishing to have their meeting dates listed. It was reported.

Second big project is the holiday fruit cake sale, and the deadline for orders on fruit cake is November 9. That is the day when the auxiliary members and their friends will meet to cut up ingredients and mix the cakes. Since it is the night of the community chorus, members and any one who wishes to help will be asked to meet in the afternoon as well as early evening.

Orders for fruit cakes may be left either with Mrs. Merle C. Ostrom or Mrs. Ralph Brodsky.

Mrs. Anna Meisel, president, of Ann Logan, announced the following team captains to serve this year: Mrs. Melvin Fetterhoff, Mrs. Loveston, Mrs. Houlhouse, Mrs. Kenneth Risley, Mrs. James Mader, Miss Isabel Finn, Mrs. James Mader, Mrs. James Gavin.

In order to increase the membership, the group voted to declare a moratorium on back dues and to re-instate any former member without payment of previous dues.

Italian Club Meets Wednesday

The Italian Mutual Benefit Auxiliary will meet on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Italian Club when their guest speaker will be Mrs. Josephine McGowan, receptionist at Line Material Co.

Mrs. McGowan will show a film, "The Girl With a Smile," provided by the Bell Telephone Co., and tell of her duties.

Stroud Fire Co. Aux.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Stroud Township Fire Co. will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Middle Stroud Firehouse, Bridge St.

Mrs. C. J. Treible Is Surprised At Baby Shower

It was more of an ambush than a shower that friends of Mrs. C. James Treible arranged for her on Friday night. They parked their cars in the Treible lane in Franklin Hill, and carried the gifts, decorations and all into the house while Mrs. Treible was upstairs.

She came down to find a miniature cradle filled with gifts, and friends from many groups. They all got acquainted rapidly through an unusual get-acquainted game involving lapel pins made of pink and blue flannel diapers. Mrs. William Dildine won the door prize.

Another feature of the party was a sculpture contest, using chewing gum as material and a baby as the subject, with Mrs. Samuel Spagnola as the winner.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Donald Kuchner, assisted by Mrs. Agnes Boyer and Mrs. Ray Dunkelberger.

Mrs. William Dildine, Mrs. William George, Mrs. George Slack, Mrs. Alex Mundle, Mrs. Edward McMahon, Mrs. Frank Gouger, Mrs. Edgar Hall, Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. Milton Possinger, Mrs. Samuel Spagnola, Mrs. Anthony Quaresimo, Mrs. Harry Treible, Miss Betty Eppright, and the children: Susan Dildine, Patty Treible, Brian Slack.

Sending gifts were Mrs. Walter Bowman and Miss Thelma Shaw.

Bazaar Committee At Grace Lutheran

The bazaar committee of the Grace Lutheran Sunday school will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 in the library room of the Sunday school to plan the annual bazaar to be held November 20.

Representatives from all Sunday School classes are requested to be present by the co-chairmen, Mrs. Stella Nace and Mrs. Gladys Arnold.

Harmony Class Today

Harmony Class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Lillian Heller, 133 South Courtland Street. Colored slides of the Korean countryside will be shown. Members are asked to note the change in meeting place.

Titus-Scheller Marriage In Easton Told

Floyd M. Titus and Grace C. Scheller, both of Stroudsburg, were married on Saturday, October 10, at 3 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Easton.

Rev. Robert T. Williamson performed the ceremony in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Wallace and son, Douglas of Easton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Titus and Mr. and Mrs. George Stout of Stroudsburg.

Mr. Titus holds a responsible position with the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and Mrs. Titus has been employed by the Monroe County Commissioners as registration clerk.

They will reside at 825 Scott St., Stroudsburg.

Around The Stroudsburgs

On their visit to Princeton, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herman learned that their daughter, Charlotte, a student with the Westminster Choir School there, is singing at Carnegie Hall this coming Friday night with the choir under the direction of Leopold Stokowski.

Edward Dennis of Cherry Valley is a patient at St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem, where he expects to remain for five or six weeks. Friends may address their cards or letters to him at Room 486 in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Northrop of State Hospital, Norristown, Pa., spent the weekend with Mrs. Northrop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, East Brown St., East Stroudsburg.

Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Fowler, and their daughters, Polly, 2, and Nancy, 7 months, of Castlegar, British Columbia, are visiting Mrs. Fowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. LeBar, of Thomas St., Stroudsburg. They stopped in Montreal on their way east, and the Fowlers are spending a few days at the shore while the children remain here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Price, Washington St., East Stroudsburg, left yesterday for Boston, Mass., where Mr. Price expects to undergo minor surgery at the Lenox clinic.

What did we see in Miami Beach stores? Just about what you see all up and down Main Street any day of summer... cute little dresses, fascinating jewels, amusing knick knacks. We saw the same sterling silver elves with mother of pearl wings that were sold in our Wyckoff jewelry department a few weeks back; the same perfumes—My Sin, Arpege, Chanel No. 5 and Tabu—that add glamour to our Wyckoff cosmetic department. We saw the same simple cottons that you find on our racks and the same delightfully feminine nylon and lace lingerie. We admired the same alligator bags, although in greater quantity, and we exclaimed over the identical bathing suits we tried on just six weeks ago in our Wyckoff sportswear department. What is more, the prices were comparable. We even saw some of the same faces. In fact, the graciously smiling lady who seated us at dinner was the same Miss Lyman who shops Wyckoff's in summer, during her stay at Pocono Manor.

Our vacation was wonderful... no doubt about it, and for this we can thank Edna Brockman's interest in us, and the sincere efforts of the hotel she suggested. The Sherry Frontenac is a resort rich in the unexpected little extra courtesies that make life so exciting, whether you are a hotel guest or a shopper. Just as Wyckoff customers enjoy the friendly smiles, helpful suggestions, and additional kindnesses in which we specialize, Margaret, Ruth and I revealed in the unexpected pitcher of orange juice brought to our door, the gift tickets for boat and bus trips and the carefully planned charades on a dreary day. It seemed that all along the line, from the minute Grace Grace made out our insurance policies, to the last few minutes of our homeward flight when pretty Carolyn Nixon, our Eastern Air Lines hostess, gave us a box of peppermint life savers for the children, friendly people put themselves out to make this year's vacation the best ever.

Now we're home. Margaret is busy with the payroll; Ruth is selling stationery and I'm typing my column. Mr. Wyckoff is off to far places, Norway and Sweden; Blanche Mackey is still hobbling around on crutches, selling refrigerators; Laura Fabel is visiting Canada, and our trip of managers—Mr. Kerlin, Holt Wyckoff, and Mr. Kresge of Sears—are up to their ears in exciting plans for a tremendous nine day sale opening Thursday in celebration of Sears-Wyckoff 20th "wedding anniversary." It is National Macaroni Week... and it is National Business Womens Week, and a great many kind people have said, "I'm so glad you're home—I really missed your column." Wonder if they missed me too? Guess I'll stop right here and ponder that one awhile.

Dr. Blakeslee Leaving Africa For Good

Blakeslee—After more than a score of years in the mission field, Dr. Virginia Blakeslee is coming home to stay. In a letter to Mrs. Dorothea Blakeslee, she said that she planned to leave Africa by plane on December 1 for England, from England she will sail for home.

Living conditions in the Kenya Colony are now very dangerous, she wrote, due to the Mau Mau uprisings.

Press Auxiliary Meets Tonight

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Stroudsburg Printing Pressmans Union will meet tonight at 7:30 at the CLU Club in East Stroudsburg. Mrs. Dorothy Andress, president, has asked all members to be present for the business meeting.

Refreshments will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. Marion Bensley, Mrs. Sonia James and Mrs. Connie Baker.

Home again, and while it's wonderful to be back, Florida was pretty wonderful too. Hurricanes? Even they were fun. Anyway I'm not convinced that "hurricane" is the correct noun to use. So far as Ruthie Widmer, Margaret Hunter, the Chamber of Commerce, and I could see, they were just occasional gusts accompanied by showers that ended as suddenly as they began. Showers that sent tourist and native scurrying to cover, while Lowell Thomas and other northern commentators searched for thunderous adjectives, and Miami announcers made quips about Hurricane-Hazel.

Never again will I take for granted every headline I see of every newscast I hear. Just about the time our Yankee relatives were picturing us being carried out to sea on tides sweeping through a sixth floor bedroom, we were wandering happily through the stores looking for souvenirs and watching our fellow shoppers run for the bus, their shoes in their hands.

What did we see in Miami Beach stores? Just about what you see all up and down Main Street any day of summer... cute little dresses, fascinating jewels, amusing knick knacks. We saw the same sterling silver elves with mother of pearl wings that were sold in our Wyckoff jewelry department a few weeks back; the same perfumes—My Sin, Arpege, Chanel No. 5 and Tabu—that add glamour to our Wyckoff cosmetic department. We saw the same simple cottons that you find on our racks and the same delightfully feminine nylon and lace lingerie. We admired the same alligator bags, although in greater quantity, and we exclaimed over the identical bathing suits we tried on just six weeks ago in our Wyckoff sportswear department. What is more, the prices were comparable. We even saw some of the same faces. In fact, the graciously smiling lady who seated us at dinner was the same Miss Lyman who shops Wyckoff's in summer, during her stay at Pocono Manor.

Our vacation was wonderful... no doubt about it, and for this we can thank Edna Brockman's interest in us, and the sincere efforts of the hotel she suggested. The Sherry Frontenac is a resort rich in the unexpected little extra courtesies that make life so exciting, whether you are a hotel guest or a shopper. Just as Wyckoff customers enjoy the friendly smiles, helpful suggestions, and additional kindnesses in which we specialize, Margaret, Ruth and I revealed in the unexpected pitcher of orange juice brought to our door, the gift tickets for boat and bus trips and the carefully planned charades on a dreary day. It seemed that all along the line, from the minute Grace Grace made out our insurance policies, to the last few minutes of our homeward flight when pretty Carolyn Nixon, our Eastern Air Lines hostess, gave us a box of peppermint life savers for the children, friendly people put themselves out to make this year's vacation the best ever.

Anti-British Strike Spreads In Guiana

Georgetown, British Guiana (AP)—A general strike, called by leftist government ministers kicked out by London as pro-Moscow plotters, spread slowly yesterday through this British crown colony's basic sugar industry.

Three minor incidents of violence were reported, including the stoning of the house of a cane worker who refused to strike, the burning of 13 acres of sugar cane, and an attempted attack by angry workers on a plantation overseer.

The walkout paralyzed two of the colony's 14 sugar factories and threatened to close down more mills today, since about 40 per cent of the cane workers have already quit work.

The strike was part of an anti-British campaign of boycott, non-cooperation and non-fraternization launched Sunday by ousted ministers belonging to the leftist People's Progressive Party (PPP).

The campaign was in retaliation for British action last week suspending the colony's new Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan and five of his ministers on the charge they planned to turn British Guiana into a Communist state allied with Moscow.

London held its hand until 600 British troops and three warships arrived in Georgetown to back up colonial Gov. Sir Alfred Savage.

Since yesterday was the Pan-American Day holiday on the anniversary of Columbus' discovery of America, full effect of the strike could not be judged immediately.

Northampton and Whitehall battled to a 13-13 deadlock on Saturday and the tie may have a marked effect on the Lehigh Valley League before the present football season passes into history. At least one observer was heard to say that he thought Northampton had the better of the two teams, even though Whitehall was on top of the pack as far as statistics are concerned. The fact that Northampton scored right off the bat, in a matter of a few plays, according to one source seemed to make the Konkrete Kids a little over confident, although Whitehall quickly demonstrated that it was to be a tough game.

Whitehall had a 15-7 edge in first down, outgained Northampton 333-227 on the ground and held a 120-50 yard gained edge in the air. Northampton just missed pulling the contest out of the fire, despite the statistics, when a last minute pass was just missed by a downfield receiver. Saturday's deadlock marked the third consecutive season in which the Zephyrs and Konkrete Kids have battled to a even score. Last season Northampton and Whitehall shared the grid crown.

If Stroudsburg, currently the number one club in the standings, can keep rolling against circuit foes, Saturday's tie will hurt both Whitehall and Northampton. The Mountaineers have had comparatively easy sailing thus far this season, but the starch part of the schedule pops into view on Friday night, when Coach Jerry Stulgaitis and company march into Bangor, home of one of the strongest grid machines in the Lehigh-Northampton League. True, Friday's battle isn't a league affair, but there isn't two more intense rivals in the business and each club will go all out to protect its fine record.

Stulgaitis, Karl Weingartner and Dick Campopista are scheduled to visit Penn State on Saturday, at the request of "Rip" Engle, head grid mentor of the Nittany Lions. John "Juice" Arns, outstanding tackle on last season's East Stroudsburg High School grid machine, is a first string end on the current Penn State freshman squad. Dan Berman, former griddier at Stroudsburg High, was scheduled to open the season at guard for Williams College, but was forced to the sidelines on the eve of the opening game with a dislocated shoulder. Dan reportedly will be out of action for six weeks.

Pen Argyl has only 45 men on its combined varsity and junior varsity football teams at the present time, the smallest total in many years. Six buses full of people followed the Lehigh-Northampton football team to East Stroudsburg last Saturday night. Al Sterner, well known local football, basketball and baseball official, was one of the officials at Saturday's Northampton-Whitehall grid battle. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College may add Gettysburg to its field hockey schedule.

Ed Kriner, former football star at ESSTC and coach for one year at Barrett High, is expected to return to Normal Hill on "Home Coming Day" Saturday, October 24. West Chester will supply the football opposition on that date. Stroudsburg High received a letter of apology from Palmerston High yesterday, accepting full blame for the mixup on marching schedules of the two school bands at a recent football game. Palmerston has agreed to never let an incident of this type occur again.

George "Dutch" Snyder, suffered a badly twisted ankle while chasing a fly in right field for Lake Harmony on Sunday. Snyder thus became the seventh player to be lost by Lake Harmony to the services or injury this season. Kunkletown won Sunday's Pocono Mountains League baseball clash and thus eliminated Lake Harmony, regular season pennant winner, from the playoffs. Kunkletown opens the final playoff series on Sunday against Barrett, on the Barrett High field. Herb Hallman, a sports enthusiast while a student at ESSTC, is now on the faculty of Valley Forge Military Academy.

Manual "Moto" Alves, another former ESSTC sports fan, is now teaching at Berwyn High School. Al "Red" Nerino, infielder with Roseto last season, is now a senior at Penn State, and is majoring in Journalism. Jim Gaffney, Daily Record reporter and resident of Bangor, is being discharged from the Monroe County General Hospital today, just in time to get in shape for Friday's Bangor-Stroudsburg football game at Bangor's Memorial Park. Ray Welsh, scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was an interested spectator at yesterday's Stroudsburg-Pen Argyl junior varsity football game.

Sam Everitt has decided to limit his basketball officiating to a certain amount of work in the Monroe County League. Sam, who completed 29 years of active officiating last season, returned all other officiating duties to the proper offices. Bruce Kunz didn't hold down a halfback post for the Lehigh-Northampton varsity football team against East Stroudsburg yesterday, due to the fact that Kunz suffered a head injury.

East Stroudsburg Yearlings Down Lehigh

Rally In Third Quarter Decides Issue

Lehigh—East Stroudsburg High school's junior varsity football team broke into the win column for the first time this season yesterday with a 13-7 victory over Lehigh's junior varsity, here on the losing squad's home field.

The Cavaliers had to wage an uphill battle to win, scoring all 13 of their points in the third period, after Lehigh had accounted for a 7-0 lead at halftime.

Lehigh came up with its only touchdown in the second period when Tom Walsh culminated a drive of 40 yards by plowing over from the two yard line. Walsh also plunged for the extra point.

Two Touchdowns
East Stroudsburg's yearlings got into the scoring act when Frank Lupin tallied on a quick opening play from five yards out, in the early moments of the third round. The entire drive covered 45 yards.

Late in the same period Danny Marvin caught a pass thrown by Dick Gray and stepped into the endzone for the deciding touchdown. Gray calmly added the extra point from placement.

The victory came after the Cavaliers, coached by Del Davis, had dropped decisions to Pen Argyl and Bangor.

East Stroudsburg doesn't play next week but tangles with a strong Wilson Borough squad the following Monday.

Good Reason For Secrecy

Mather Air Force Base, Calif., U.S.—They keep ALL the information secret at this northern California Air Force Base—even the football scores.

Called Saturday night for the score of the Mather-College of Idaho game, the night adjutant said he was not permitted to give out information.

Question
"Not even a football score?" he was asked.

"Mine is not to reason why," was the reply.

There may have been a reason for the blackout—the airmen lost 64-0.

Cards Promote Three Players

St. Louis U.S.—The St. Louis Cardinals yesterday completed an eight-player deal with their Rochester farm club, champions of the International League.

Trio
Rochester sends three players, pitchers Floyd Woodrider and Ellis Deal and outfielder Tom Burgess, to the parent club in return for five Cardinal players who spent most of the season on option with minor league clubs.

League Plans Night Softball
Five teams were represented at last night's meeting of the Monroe County Softball League at the Eagles Club, at which time night softball was the chief topic of discussion. The teams represented were Jack's Market, Eagles, Al Beseker's Diner, Newman's Shop and IAM.

Discussion
A long and sincere discussion of night softball for next season was held, during which time most angles of the program were carefully examined. No definite action was taken on this subject.

Charley Berger, circuit vice president, led the discussion on possible means of raising money. Again no definite action was taken.

Jack Mullins, president of the circuit, was in charge of the meeting.

Writers To Entertain

Philadelphia U.S.—The Philadelphia Sports Writers Association announced yesterday it will entertain the outstanding athlete of the past half century in each major sport at its golden anniversary dinner January 25, at the same time it nominated Joe Louis to represent boxing.

Notre Dame Remains Tops In Grid Poll

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

New York U.S.—Upsets took a severe toll of the nation's ranking college football teams last weekend, but mighty Notre Dame which figured the October 10 open date as the only clinch on its schedule, remained on top of the list.

Notre Dame's Irish benefited in a rather odd way from that gap in the schedule. They polled 10 fewer votes for first place from the sports writers and broadcasters participating in the third weekly Associated Press ranking poll of the 1953 season, but they came up with a larger point total.

Only 74 of the 131 voters this week picked Notre Dame first. But there were enough votes for other spots in the first 10 to reach a total of 1,228 points on the usual 10-9-8 etc. basis. A week ago there were 84 first place votes for Notre Dame and 1,199 points.

Meanwhile Ohio State, one of the leading contenders, was the victim of a stunning upset at the hands of under-rated Illinois 41-23 and Michigan State teetered on the verge of another before beating Texas Christian, 26-19.

As a result, Michigan State's Spartans were barely able to hold onto second place in the ranking.

Fans Request Route To Morrisville

A large number of fans apparently plan to be present at Morrisville on Saturday when East Stroudsburg High swings into action against the Morrisville High School football squad, at 8:15 p.m.

Many telephone calls were received at East Stroudsburg High school yesterday requesting the best and most direct route to Morrisville.

Jack Kist, head football mentor at the N. Courtland St. school, revealed what he believes to be the best route last night.

Directions
Directions call for fans to follow Route 611 through Delaware Water Gap into Portland. Go straight through Portland and across the bridge into New Jersey.

Bear right at Buttsville, going up the hill, on Route 69. Following 69 through Washington, Flemington, Ringoes, Pennington and Washington's Crossing.

Just south of Washington's Crossing turn right and cross the river once again into Pennsylvania. On the Pennsylvania side of the bridge turn left into Route 32 and follow the road directly into Morrisville.

The game was originally slated for Friday night but was switched to Saturday night at Morrisville's request.

A's Recall Two Pitchers

Philadelphia U.S.—The Philadelphia Athletics yesterday announced the recall of pitcher Ed Burstchy from Ottawa of the International League and pitcher Art Dittmar from Savannah of the Sally League.

Sale
The club sold outright to its Ottawa farm team pitchers Mike Kume and John Mackinson, and second baseman Everett "Skeeter" Kell. All three played with Ottawa in 1952 on loan from the Athletics.

Giants Purchase Nashville Hurler

New York U.S.—The New York Giants yesterday purchased their second minor league pitcher since the end of the 1953 baseball season, right-hander Pete Modica, 30, from the Nashville Volunteers of the Southern Association where he appeared mostly as a reliever.

Last Week
Last week the Giants bought "Windy" McCall from San Francisco.

Danowski Questions Referee's Call Of Play

New York U.S.—Fordham football coach Ed Danowski charged yesterday that the referee was asleep on the sleeper play which Syracuse pulled on the Rams Saturday to win 20-13.

On the play, Syracuse, leading 13-7, got the ball on its own one-yard line late in the last quarter. Before Fordham realized it had lost the ball, Syracuse lined up quickly and, without a huddle, uncorked a surprise pass from its own end zone.

Quarterback Pat Stark, who pulled the play without the knowledge of Coach Ben Schwartzwalder, shifted to fullback, took the pass from center and threw to halfback Art Troilo, who went to the Fordham 29.

Touchdown
Six plays later Stark sneaked

over for the touchdown which proved the difference in the game.

After time out, officials are supposed to check with both teams before starting the clock again," Danowski said.

Referee of the game was Geo. F. Hogan, who could not be reached immediately for comment.

Varsity 'E' Club Makes Plans For Alumni Basketball Tilt

Approximately 30 members attended last night's special meeting of the Varsity "E" Club at East Stroudsburg High school.

The group voted to go along with the Alumni basketball game and appointed Jack Sommers as chairman of a committee to direct the club's portion of the cage program.

Thanks
Another discussion involving the possible purchase of letter-sweaters for better winning athletes was held but no action was taken.

The group also voted to thank the school board for the press box currently under construction.

Redge Nauman, president of the club and in charge of last night's meeting, announced that a special attendance drive will be held to get everyone interested in the Varsity "E" Club out to the regular meeting listed for Monday, October 26.

Nauman reported that several new members attended last night's meeting.

Texas Plagued By Fumbles

Austin, Tex., U.S.—Coach Ed Price of Texas says maybe they better either put handles on footballs or equip the backs with zipper bags. At least, that would be desirable for his gridgers.

Sande Finishes Fourth On Favorite

New York U.S.—Earl Sande, making a riding comeback at the age of 54, finished fourth on the favored Triple in the first race at Jamaica yesterday.

Winner
The six-furlong event was won by Fighting Wise, with Eric Guerri in aboard, in 1:14, with Abe Saltzman's Royal Rebel second, nearly a length back.

Lost For Season

Washington U.S.—George Washington University reported yesterday that guard John Posta of Coal-dale, Pa., is lost to the football team for the rest of the season. Posta suffered a recurrence of a neck injury in Saturday's 24-20 loss to Virginia.

Major Leagues Establish Home Run Record

New York U.S.—The 1953 season was the most productive one for home runs in major league baseball history.

Both circuits accounted for a total of 2,078 homers, eclipsing the previous combined high of 2,073 set in 1950. The National League bettered its own record by blasting 1,197 home runs—97 more than the old mark also established three seasons ago. The American League had 879, but fell short of its all-time mark of 973.

Increase
Actually, there were 375 more home runs hit during 1953 than there were last season, with every major league team, except the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox, showing an increase.

Too, four National League teams, the Dodgers, Redlegs, Cardinals and Braves, set new club standards.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press show that the Dodgers led the leagues with 204 homers while the Cleveland Indians paced the American with 160. The Washington Senators, playing their home games in spacious Griffith Stadium, had the fewest, only 69.

Still, the Nats hit more than they did in '52, when they had an even 50 homers.

Pitt Loses Guard

Pittsburgh U.S.—Guard Rudy Grunder will be lost to the University of Pittsburgh for its important intersectional football game with Notre Dame Saturday.

Frisco Loses Passing Star

Detroit U.S.—The football hope of the San Francisco 49ers were jolted yesterday by the announcement that passing star Y. A. Tittle will miss two or three games because of a severely fractured cheekbone.

Impaired
The 49ers' veteran quarterback was injured Sunday when his team lost to the Detroit Lions, 24-21.

Danowski Questions Referee's Call Of Play

New York U.S.—Fordham football coach Ed Danowski charged yesterday that the referee was asleep on the sleeper play which Syracuse pulled on the Rams Saturday to win 20-13.

Thanks
Another discussion involving the possible purchase of letter-sweaters for better winning athletes was held but no action was taken.

The group also voted to thank the school board for the press box currently under construction.

Redge Nauman, president of the club and in charge of last night's meeting, announced that a special attendance drive will be held to get everyone interested in the Varsity "E" Club out to the regular meeting listed for Monday, October 26.

Nauman reported that several new members attended last night's meeting.

Texas Plagued By Fumbles

Austin, Tex., U.S.—Coach Ed Price of Texas says maybe they better either put handles on footballs or equip the backs with zipper bags. At least, that would be desirable for his gridgers.

Sande Finishes Fourth On Favorite

New York U.S.—Earl Sande, making a riding comeback at the age of 54, finished fourth on the favored Triple in the first race at Jamaica yesterday.

Winner
The six-furlong event was won by Fighting Wise, with Eric Guerri in aboard, in 1:14, with Abe Saltzman's Royal Rebel second, nearly a length back.

Lost For Season

Washington U.S.—George Washington University reported yesterday that guard John Posta of Coal-dale, Pa., is lost to the football team for the rest of the season. Posta suffered a recurrence of a neck injury in Saturday's 24-20 loss to Virginia.

Major Leagues Establish Home Run Record

New York U.S.—The 1953 season was the most productive one for home runs in major league baseball history.

Both circuits accounted for a total of 2,078 homers, eclipsing the previous combined high of 2,073 set in 1950. The National League bettered its own record by blasting 1,197 home runs—97 more than the old mark also established three seasons ago. The American League had 879, but fell short of its all-time mark of 973.

Increase
Actually, there were 375 more home runs hit during 1953 than there were last season, with every major league team, except the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox, showing an increase.

Too, four National League teams, the Dodgers, Redlegs, Cardinals and Braves, set new club standards.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press show that the Dodgers led the leagues with 204 homers while the Cleveland Indians paced the American with 160. The Washington Senators, playing their home games in spacious Griffith Stadium, had the fewest, only 69.

Still, the Nats hit more than they did in '52, when they had an even 50 homers.

Pitt Loses Guard

Pittsburgh U.S.—Guard Rudy Grunder will be lost to the University of Pittsburgh for its important intersectional football game with Notre Dame Saturday.

Stroudsburg Junior Varsity Blanks Pen Argyl, 12-0

Newman, McNeal Score Touchdowns

Stroudsburg High school marched to its second straight junior varsity football victory of the season yesterday by scoring a 12-0 decision over the Pen Argyl High yearlings at Gordon Giffels field.

The Mountaineers scored in the second and fourth stanzas and then fought of a couple of minor scoring threats by Pen Argyl to protect their record of not having been scored on this far this season.

Stroudsburg marched into scoring territory early in the second round, with Bob Phillips crashing to the one-foot line.

Mark Newman blasted his way over the double chalk mark on the next play to put the charges of Coach George Metropoulos in the front running spot for the remainder of the contest. Dave Shook's placement for the extra point was blocked.

Climber
All was quiet until late in the final period, when Charley McNeal brought a short scoring march to an end by cycling his own left end for 20 yards. Shook's try for the extra point was blocked once again.

Stroudsburg held the upper hand most of the way and was in complete control of the contest during the second half.

Pen Argyl now has one victory and a single defeat on its agenda. Stroudsburg returns to action next Monday at 4 p.m. at the Mountaineers invade Bangor.

Box score follows:
PEN ARGYL (0)

Klein Wins Split Verdict

Brooklyn, N. Y. (AP) — Joey Klein, New York, won a 10-round split decision over "Rocky" Casillo, Chicago, last night at the Eastern Parkway Arena. Both weighed 147.

Judge Joe Agnello scored at 7-3 in favor of Klein and Judge Nat Cooper had it 6-4 for Klein. Referee Mark Conn ruled the fight 5-5 and gave each fighter six points calling the fight a draw.

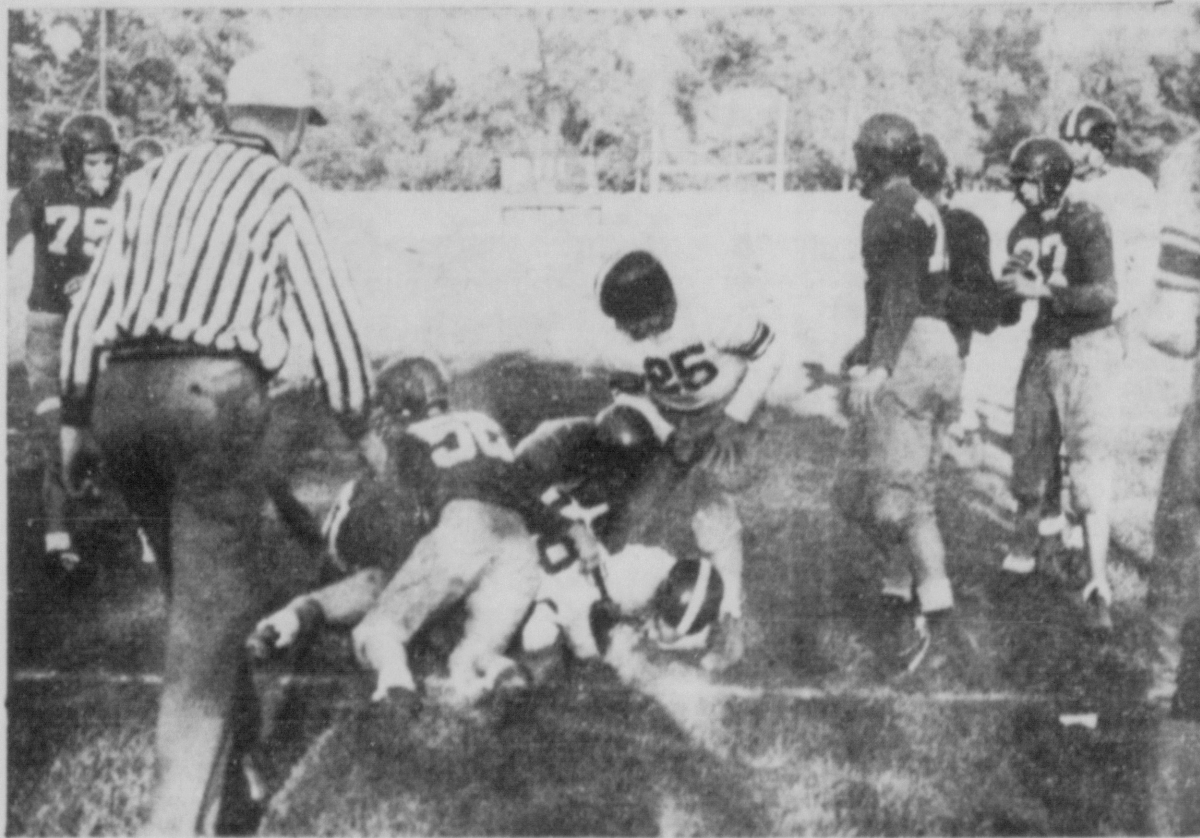

Favorite
Casillo, an 8½-5 favorite at the "house of upsets" in his first New York appearance, started off strong with a rushing attack. Klein staggered the Chicago welterweight in the third with a right hand to the jaw. Klein had Casillo's nose bleeding from the third round to the end of the fight.

Early in the sixth, Casillo had Klein in trouble and Klein's nose bled until the end of the fight.

Allen Wins Long Walk
Guelph, Ont. (AP) — John Allen of Buffalo yesterday won the 10-mile walk at the annual Thanksgiving road races in 1:28:16. Allen raced with a three and one-half minute handicap. John Wall of Baltimore was second, and James Hewson of Buffalo was third.

Wilson Borough Yearlings Run Wild Over Bangor, 44-12

Wilson Borough—Wilson Borough High School gave the remainder of the Lehigh-Northampton League plenty to think about yesterday as the Wilson junior varsity rolled to a stunning 44-12 victory over Bangor High's yearlings, here on the winning squad's home field.

ESSTC Drills For Mansfield Grid Battle

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College began preparation for Saturday's tussle with Mansfield Teachers yesterday, as the coaching staff kept one eye on the practice field and another on the injury list.

Coach Gene Martin last night reported that Jack Morris, tackle, and Don Toth, a back, had suffered the only injuries of note in last Saturday's clash with Shippenburg, in which the warriors went down to a 30-0 defeat.

Damage
Morris came up with a wrenched knee and Toth with leg bruises, but both are expected to be ready to meet Mansfield this weekend.

But, the injury list of four prior to the Shippenburg contest is still intact.

Larry Kilck and Carmen "Muss" Martucci, end and tackle respectively are out with knee injuries, while Warren Hoefner and Ted Murray, a pair of backs, are on the shelf with hip damages.

The Warriors took part in a very light practice yesterday.

Six Cavaliers On Injured List At Present

Stroudsburg High School's football squad is reportedly in good physical condition, but just the opposite is the case in the camp of the East Stroudsburg grid machine.

Lehigh Valley League

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Stroudsburg	3	0	0	1.000
Slatington	2	0	0	1.000
Northampton	1	0	1	1.000
Whitehall	1	0	1	1.000
Catsaugua	0	0	1	.000
Lehighton	0	2	0	.000
Falmertown	0	2	1	.000
Emmans	0	3	0	.000

Coach Jack Kist reported last night that six of his stalwarts are on the injured list and in doubtful shape for Saturday night's clash with Morrisville, on the latter's home field.

Although a half dozen Cavaliers are out of action at the present time, none of the injuries are of a serious nature.

Jack Anthony suffered a very slight fracture of the right thumb in Saturday's tussle with Lehighton, while Don Herman suffered a bruised hip in the same contest. Both Herman and Anthony are ends.

Nick Patella, a guard, is currently limping on a bruised knee, while Bill Dimmick, another guard, also suffered a bruised hip in the Lehighton tussle. Mike Palmisano is still on the sidelines with damaged back and side muscles and will miss the Morrisville battle for certain.

Harold White, a halfback, is ready to play but is hampered greatly by an injured hip.

Kist stated last night that he plans to work his forces very light during the present week. The Cavaliers held a skull practice yesterday.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis stated yesterday that his pupils came through the Pen Argyl battle without injury and will begin work for Friday's battle with Bangor today.

Ladies Bowl Scheduled

Members of the East Stroudsburg Ladies' League will bowl at Harmon's Recreation today, at 6:45 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Twin County Distributors vs. Courtland Beverage.
Alleys three and four—Ballantine's vs. Square Bar.

Alleys five and six — Brock's vs. Eagles.

NBA Fails To List Contender For Marciano's Heavy Crown

By Herb Altschull
Washington (AP) — The National Boxing Association made it official yesterday: There isn't a heavyweight fighter in "Rocky" Marciano's class.

For the first time since Joe Louis was in his heyday, the NBA left a big blank in the "logical contender" slot among the heavyweights.

The NBA's fall ratings have the same vote of confidence to Jimmy Carter, the world light-heavyweight champion. No logical contender was reported in sight in that division.

Roland LaStarza, who was right behind Marciano in the summer ratings, slumped to third place among the heavyweight division's outstanding boxers as a result of his TKO loss to the champion last month.

Moving ahead of LaStarza were Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia and former champion Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati. Nino Valdez of Cuba got a fourth place rating among the outstanding boxers.

Ultimatums

The NBA issued ultimatums to two champions to defend their titles or risk losing their crowns. These warnings went to Archie Moore, the light-heavyweight champ, and Percy Bassett, who holds the interim featherweight title while titlist Sandy Saddler is in the army.

As a matter of fact, Bassett found himself in the strange position of being a champion and ranked fourth in his own division.

Rated ahead of him were Saddler, Willie Pep, the former titlist, and "Red Top" Davis.

Moore was told to fight Harold Johnson or else. Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the NBA Ratings Board, put it this way:

The NBA was directly responsible for Moore getting the title match which gave him the championship. "Now we want him to defend it against our sole logical contender."

UNITED STATES TESTING COMPANY supervised entire test, proved that Blue Sunoco, at regular gas price, gave more miles per dollar. The 25 new and used cars tested were: Chevrolet (2), Ford (2), Plymouth (2), Buick (2), Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Dodge, Mercury, Nash, Studebaker, Chrysler (2), DeSoto, Cadillac (2), Packard, Hudson, Lincoln, Willys, Kaiser, Henry J.

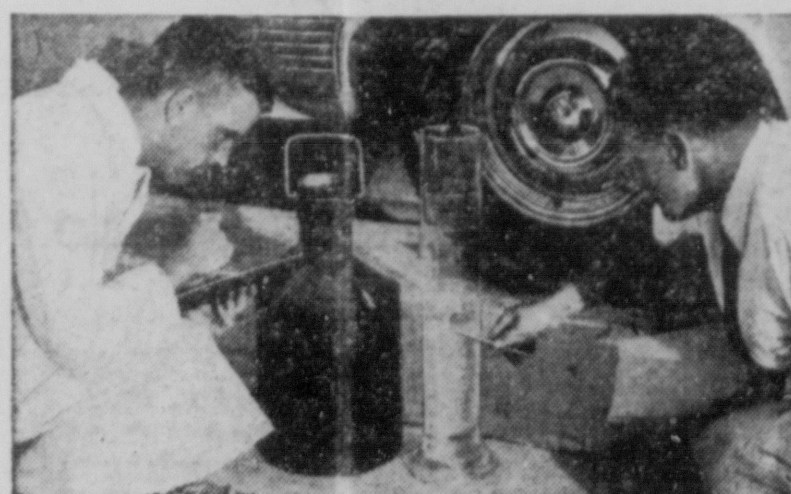

TEST DRIVERS were employees of U. S. Testing Company. No driver knew brand names of gasolines being tested. Gasolines were bought directly from filling stations. Cars were driven at touring speeds.

CAMERAS PUT YOU ON THE SCENE AS Regular-Priced Blue Sunoco Wins Against 15 "Premiums"

Road tests conducted by U. S. Testing Company prove Blue Sunoco delivers up to 12.4% more miles per dollar than 15 premium-priced brands—matches acceleration and performance of these same gasolines, which cost up to 34 more per gallon.

THE TEST: 16 major gasolines were tested by the famous United States Testing Company. 15 of these gasolines were premium-priced brands. Only one—High-Test Blue Sunoco—sells at regular gasoline price.

THE RESULTS: Blue Sunoco gave up to 12.4% more miles per dollar than the 15 premium-priced gasolines tested. Blue Sunoco matched the acceleration and over-all performance of these same brands.

AFTER DAY'S RUN, U. S. Testing Company technician carefully checks gasoline remaining in tank. Blue Sunoco's amazing showing against 15 premium-priced brands is credited to Sunoco's one-grade, highest-quality policy. Make your own 10-gallon test and see for yourself the difference High-Test Blue Sunoco makes in miles per gallon. Ask your dealer what brands were tested.

"PICK-UP" TESTS revealed that High-Test Blue Sunoco matched the 15 gasolines which cost up to 34 more per gallon.

Mrs Grady Appointed Observer

Mrs. Julia Grady of Tobyhanna has been appointed air weather observer to collaborate with Harry E. Greene of Mount Pocono in taking observations at the weather station temporarily located at High Point Inn.

Mr. Greene, formerly official in charge of the Mount Pocono Airport Station, has been taking the two-hourly observations for more than a year.

Mrs. Grady is a graduate of the Weather Bureau School at La Guardia Field and was formerly employed at the Erie, Wilkes-Barre and Mt. Pocono Air Weather Stations.

Congressman Francis E. Walter was instrumental in having the temporary air weather station restored after the closing of the Mount Pocono Airport Station. The Navy Dept. and commercial airlines indicated a demand for knowledge of air and weather conditions over the Poconos by pilots.

Charles Geissinger had extended a gratuitous lease to the Dept. of Commerce for temporary quarters at High Point Inn. Observations are telephoned every two hours between 6 a.m. and 8 p.m. to the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport where they are sent out on the teletype circuit.

Saturday night dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Angstadt were Alvin Ziegler, daughter Judy and son Alvin Jr.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baumann and daughters motored to Dumont, N. J., to bring Mrs. Baumann's mother, Mrs. M. Fichtman, home. Mrs. Fichtman had spent about six weeks with her other son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sobeck, of Dumont.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gaeton, of Mt. Brook House, were the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, and family, of Scranton.

Mrs. Rachael Brown spent some time in Stroudsburg recently.

Recent callers at Mt. Rest Farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Succow, were Mrs. Marian Koerner, her children Mark and Deborah, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. William Koerner Sr., of Dunmore.

Area Artists Win Prizes At Allentown

One of the top honors at a "Portrait of Anthracite" art show in Allentown has been won by Robert E. Doney, Pen Artyl, head of Bangor School District art department.

The show was unveiled Sunday at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. building in Allentown. Nearly a thousand guests, including government officials, anthracite industry leaders and ranking union officers saw the 162 art works at a special preview.

The entries range from oils to wire sculptures. All were submitted by members of the Lehigh Art Alliance, composed of more than 300 artists living in a 45 mile radius of the Allentown-Bethlehem area.

Listed as an honorable mention winner is John J. Sobie, Bushkill artist.

Wyckoff-Sears To Celebrate Anniversary

The Wyckoff-Sears Store will celebrate 20 years of business relationship beginning on Thursday.

In 1933 Sears Roebuck and Co. entered into an agency agreement with E. H. Wyckoff and since that time have occupied the downstairs selling floor. When Sears opened the new departments there were about 7,000 square feet of floor space. Today the Sears Departments take over 14,000 square feet.

Many departments and services have been added. Some of the services rendered on all Sears products include plumbing, heating, floor covering, radio, television, refrigeration, washing machines, electric ranges, rebuilt engines.

Another service that has grown with the store in the past 20 years is the catalog sales department. When the original store was opened 20 years ago, the store manager handled the customers' orders. Today there are four employees in the department.

A varied line of merchandise is carried in the Sears departments and includes sporting goods, household furnishings, housewares, building materials, auto accessories, electrical supplies, hardware, farm and garden supplies.

Henry Kresge is manager and James Sommers is assistant manager of the Sears Departments.

Kunkletown

Mrs. Adan Bohner

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilmoth included Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hensley, of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newmeyer, of Cranford, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Steward, of Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lerch, Mr. and Mrs. P. Boles and Mrs. Carrie Hudson, of Port Jefferson, L. I., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allison S. Smith and Steward Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Fogel, of Palmerton, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Gower.

Miss Elizabeth Squires, of Salisbury, Conn., is spending the week with Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner and family.

The Merrimack Card Club played at the home of Mrs. Sula Peters. This was the first meeting in several weeks.

Mrs. Joyce Frantz and daughters, Sarah and Carolyn, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Silliman at Falls Church, Va. While there they visited many of the points of interest in and near Falls Church and Washington, D. C.

Rev. and Mrs. Adan Bohner and Mrs. Elsie and Miss Alma Derham were supper guests on Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Byron MacBeth, in Bethlehem.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lindenmeyer Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard

Lindenmeyer Jr. and son Keith, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barlieb.

Mrs. Howard Christman and Miss Alma Derham visited in Stroudsburg on Wednesday morning.

The Ladies Aid met on Wednesday. Present were Mrs. Earl Lohach, Mrs. Adan Bohner, Mrs. Elsie Derham, Mrs. Howard Christman, Mrs. Wilson Christman and Mrs. Alvin E. Gower. At a meeting, called by the president, Mrs. Earl Lohach, the purchase of a deep-freeze by the Aid was noted.

A motion was passed to purchase several dozen more pieces of flatware for use in the church.

Excavating for the new fire house was started recently. A group of volunteer workers worked all day. The machinery used is being donated by the Shiesly Co.

Steward Smith, lifelong resident of Kunkletown, celebrated his 85th birthday on Thursday in his usual manner—fox hunting with his sons. Mr. Smith was born and lived, until three years ago, in the same house in Smith Gap. Three years ago, after the death of his wife, Elmira, nee Green, Mr. Smith lives with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Borger. There were nine children, eight of whom are still living; 20 grand children and 18 great grandchildren.

Three County People Earn Lehigh Degrees

Three Monroe County students received degrees from Lehigh University Sunday afternoon.

Nathan James Kunkle, Chestnut Hill High School teacher, received a Master of Arts degree in education during "Founder's Day" exercises, held yesterday at Packer Memorial Church, Bethlehem.

Kunkle is a Chestnut Hill graduate who also holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg.

He began his teaching career in Hamilton Township schools then became principal of the Delaware Water Gap public school system. He is now an English and social studies instructor at Chestnut Hill in Brodheadsville.

Kunkle served 25 months in the U. S. Navy during World War Two where he took special training in occupational therapy.

He is married to the former Stella M. Shout, Trenton, N. J. Attending graduation exercises yesterday were Kunkle, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kunkle.

Also receiving the Master of Arts degree at the Lehigh exercises was Ralph Warren Knauf, Tannersville.

Joseph B. Kushner, Stroudsburg, received a Master of Science degree with a major in metallurgical engineering.

Governor Fine Ill With Cold

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine was confined at the state house at nearby Indianopolis Gap with a cold yesterday. The governor said, however, he expected to attend President Eisenhower's birthday party tomorrow at Hershey.

"That's the reason I stayed in today," Fine told a reporter.

Doctors Examine Woman Held In Death Of County Resident

A woman charged with manslaughter and involuntary manslaughter in the death of Miss Sally Catherine Serfass, 45, Kresgeville, will be transferred from Allentown State Hospital to some other institution, it was reported yesterday.

The woman, Betty Y. Campbell, 35, who has been a patient at the hospital since 1946, cannot tell right from wrong, according to a report submitted by two physicians appointed to examine her.

The doctors were named by President Judge James F. Henninger, after the charges were preferred by Lt. Det. Elmer J. Horner.

Horner made his charge after consultation with District Attorney M. Jack Morgan, following Miss Serfass' death Oct. 5.

Miss Serfass was pushed or thrown to the concrete floor of a recreation room at the hospital during a scuffle, and suffered severe injuries.

The physician's examination of the defendant was made Friday. The doctors said the woman is mentally ill and needs care in a hospital for mental diseases.

The judge said he would issue an order for her transfer to another institution, pointing out that the court felt it would not be good for the institution or its patients to allow her to remain at Allentown State Hospital.

Miss Serfass had been a patient since 1931.
